Dear Mr. Dexter

For reasons unknown your letter of 9 September 1989 took a very long time before landing on my desk on 14 November 1989.

However, the letter was of interest to our Panorama monitoring station which is situated about 15 kilometres west of Johannesburg, and I requested them to note your report and to put your name on their mailing list — which has now been done.

Radio Today is a programme covering daily events and is presented on the internal Radio South Africa (English) service of the SABC. This service is normally not broadcast on short wave, but 7 September was the day after our general election and Radio Today had been covering the election and therefore had also been presented at times on short wave for the benefit of listeners outside the RSA.

Thank you for writing to the SABC, and all the best.

Sincerely yours

C.T. VERMAAKT
