Dear Mr. Dexter,

Thank you for your letter of 16th October.

The transmission which you received at 1800 GMT on 9th October on 15.42 Mc/s was presumably a relay of the BBC World Service from the East Mediterranean Relay Station. This frequency was carrying Swahili from 1745-1800 GMT.

We regret that the BBC does not issue full verification of reception but we have pleasure in sending you our acknowledgement card and the current BBC World Service frequency chart.

Yours sincerely,

(Miss V.R. Pressman)

for Chief Engineer, External Broadcasting

A black and white photograph of the Big Ben clock tower and the Houses of Parliament in London at night. The tower is illuminated, and its reflection is visible in the River Thames in the foreground. The sky is dark with some clouds, and other buildings are visible in the background, some with lights on. The overall mood is serene and iconic.

Thank you for your request for verification. The appropriate finding is indicated thus (X):

- (X) Your report was in accordance with our published schedule.
- () You probably heard one of our transmissions but the information you give does not entirely confirm this.
- () This may have been a rebroadcast of our programme by another organization.
- () Your reception does not seem to agree with any of our transmissions at the time you give.

We hope you will continue to enjoy our programmes.

Best wishes from

K.R. Stanley
