report

DXers frequently complain these days about the poor equipment situation. Dire predictions of hobby doom due to lack of equipment are heard at every turn.

So, I decided to check into things and can happily report that the picture is not nearly as dark as some would have you believe. Here's a look at some of the items soon to be on the market.

The Altruistic AWP (All Wave Portable) is a 12 transistor unit operating off two dozen penlight cells. The cabinet is of genuine imitation maple and cowhide. All dial scales and push-button band selector buttons are color-coded. The receiver covers 50 to 500 khz, 522 to 1611 kHz, 2 to 4 mHz, 5 to 8.5 mHz, 10 to 12 and 1⁰ to 20 mHz, as well as the 30 to 50 mHz band. A pocket at the back of the receiver holds a 48 x 60 inch color map of the world. And there is a spring action longwire antenna rolled up inside. Press a button and a self-propelled, 10 inch arrow shoots out at a 76 degree angle, trailing 130 feet of wire. A 0-10 log scale makes it a simple matter to relocate a station. Economically priced at just $249, it makes a great second receiver or basic unit for the beginner.

In the intermediate price range you should consider the new Hammerhead DX King at $649.50, plus speaker and AC line cord. An ingenious tuning system moves a dial pointer across a special dial scale as you select the band of frequencies you desire. The receiver is one of the crystal based type with provisions for 114, 100 kHz bands. (4.5 to 5.0 mHz not recommended). The main tuning scale runs from 0 to 100 and you must, of course, add whatever number the main tuning is set at to the figure shown on the band selector pointer dial, subtracting or adding 5kHz per hour of use for drift compensation and a factor of 0.398 when the shack temperature rises above 85. In checking this one out I found sensitivity to be excellent with HCB easily heard over BED60 on 9745. Other features include a built-in 200kHz crystal calibrator, tone control and embossed warranty card.

For the discriminating listener, I recommend the Roder-Schwatzie Ultimo One Thousand. This has got to be the last word in receivers and I can't begin to completely describe it here. Coverage is from 1kHz to 100MHz in either 100 or 1,000 kHz bands depending upon how you set the controls. A choice of 25 different selectivity settings is available. The unit has a built-in visual band display, motorized tuning, aligns itself automatically for whatever frequency is tuned--and does it so fast that by the time you finish adjusting the main tuning to the desired frequency, the receiver has peaked itself. An "audio expander" takes the audio from a station needing heavy filtering and provides the effect of expanding it back to near normal audio by re-inserting the higher frequencies. A special switch controls a slide-back panel at the top of the receiver which exposes a hotplate for keeping your coffee ready on those all night sessions. Suffice it to say that if you want this one you'll probably have to sell your Rolls!

An interesting piece of associated gear is the MC101 monitoring console manufactured by Ripoff DX Products at $219.95. The unit contains a pre-selector, audio filter, noise blanker, digital clock, cassette recorder, airmail stamp dispenser, antenna switching unit, crystal calibrator and a 4 x 6 area covered by clear plastic under which you can insert cards (available at slight additional cost) with important data you wish to keep close by, such as the latest Maldives schedule, club expiration dates or whatever.

I hope the above will serve to dispel any doubts you might have had about the so-called "sorry state of equipment" because, as you can see, quite to the contrary, things are very rosy indeed!

A REPORT FROM HEADQUARTERS

NORTH AMERICAN SHORT WAVE ASSOCIATION POST OFFICE BOX 13 LIBERTY, INDIANA 47353 U.S.A.
NOVEMBER, 1975

"DXING ACCORDING TO NASWA" We call to attention, the center fold page which announces that Ed Shaw's book is now available. We have reproduced the table of contents in order to give an idea of the subjects covered. The price is $2.50 plus .50¢ postage and handling mailed anywhere in North America. The mailing cost is an additional $1.00 for airmail outside North America. We expect a lot of orders at the beginning, so give some extra time to get your copy mailed.

MEMBERSHIP DUES TO INCREASE: In anticipation of the new postal rates which are scheduled to go in effect at the end of December, we have no choice but to increase membership dues accordingly. From the mailing cover, you will note the cost of membership is increased $1.00 per year. Overseas airmail charges are likewise increased since the cost of sending printed matter by airmail will increase substantial. The cost of "DX Hotline" (formerly FlashSheet) is increased to $3.00 per year. Part of this increase is because we have found that publishing costs are higher in Park Forest than they were when Dan Ferguson was publishing this on the club's printing machine in Charleston. These increases are effective immediately, however those checks that are now in the mail at the old rates will be honored through November only.

We are sorry to have to increase the cost of membership, and if we sent just a few bulletins each month the increase might not be necessary, but in mailing over 10,000 copies of FRENDX in a years time, even a slight increase in postal rates is substantial in total.

PEOPLE AND PLACES: An awful lot of you people out there are moving around on us and not letting us know about it. A June FRENDX was mailed to a member at his listed California address was returned to marked "Addressee Unknown - No forwarding Address". A couple of weeks ago we received a letter from South Carolina saying "I don't know where you are mailing my FRENDX's, but I haven't gotten one since May". If we don't know where you are, we can't send them to you. Now that the Postal Service has increased their "Address Correction Requested" fee from .10¢ to .25¢, we will no longer ask for this service, so it'll be up to anyone on the move to tell us about it.

BITS AND PIECES: LARRY MAGNE will be representing NASWA's interests at the ITU World Administration Radio Conference chaired by the FCC in Washington, D.C. on October 21, 1975.....PERRY FERRELL of Gilfer Associates writes to say that he will be having a shipment of 1976 WRTH air freighted to Park Ridge to fill advance orders for WRTH-76 which has been promised him by January 15, 1976 which would mean that Gilfer should have advance orders shipped by January 26 at the latest.....EDWARD J. FYATT calls attention to a DX supply house in Finland that offers a few products that may be of some interest. Space does not permit a full list, so if anyone is interested, write direct to DX-Service, SF-10650 Vantaa 65, Finland. (A couple of IRC's might be in order).....JIM HAGEN reports that Mr. Sam Consalvo, 4905 Roanne Drive, Washington, DC 20021 can furnish operation manuals for Government surplus equipment such as the R-390A, etc.....DENIS BEAUREGARD 2425 St. Antoine, Lachine, P.Q., Canada tells us about their DX Club "Club Ondes Courtes Candiac" which publishes a fourteen page bulletin "L'onde" for French speaking North American DXers. The club has 31 members and is a year old.....WALT SHARP, 1301 Morgan Avenue, Cinnaminson, NJ 08077 says that The South Jersey SWC is looking for DXers to help organize the club. Potential members must be from New Jersey.....CIRO GUARDUCCI, P.O. Box 173, Cassiar, B.C., Canada asks if anyone can advise him the name of a dealer who might be able to furnish the Yaesu FR-101 receiver as mentioned in the Nov. 1974 issue of FRENDX.....TED POLING, Director for HAP Program calls attention to the HAP year end fund drive. This year's fund drive will operate as in the past. Donors should send their contributions along with their club affiliation to HAP HDQ, P.O. Box 163, Mt. Sterling, IL 62353. Each club will receive a list of individual donors, and the total donated by each club in time for the January bulletins. This drive will allow each club member to help HAP in a direct individual way. Continued help can make it possible for HAP to continue it's work for the handicapped..... Thanks to DIANE LEVESQUE for the new masthead for the Scoreboard section which will appear with the December Scoreboard listing. Editor Neal Perdue also asks that requests for the NASWA country list be directed to Headquarters rather than to him.....DON JENSEN says he hopes to have a new country list ready to publish by early December.

SUMMER RECEPTION IN EUROPE

by Richard E. Wood - Garden City NY

This summer I returned to my native Scotland and also traveled to Holland. In both countries I had access to shortwave receivers - in Scotland, a small portable, the Japanese Decca PR-209, and in Holland, a very good Philips domestic receiver. The experience, covering the months of July and August, was sufficient to refamiliarize myself with typical summer reception in the northwest coastal region of Europe, the area where I began DXing in 1957, and to compare it with conditions on ECNA using simple receivers.

My main observation was the general dominance of transmissions from the Eurasian landmass and Mediterranean basin during the daylight and early evening hours. However a few Latin American stations were heard, particularly in the international bands. The best and most consistent was something of a surprise - R Nacional de Brasilia, 15245. Its European service in English at 2100, followed by A Voz do Brasil at 2200, provided excellent listening. Second best was Trans-world Radio, Bonaire, with European service (French 2200-2215) on 15275. HCJB was the first SWBC which I verified from England in 1957. It was on 15115 then, just as it is now and just as good. The Swedish service was also heard on 15305. However, Quito was not heard nightly, in contrast to the more easterly stations, RNB and TWR/E. Havana's European services, being mostly in the early evening, were not good, but by 2200 Havana was becoming dominant on several 19 mb channels in Spanish. Radio Nederland Bonaire was heard on 19 and 25 meters. Finally, RAE Buenos Aires was reasonably heard in its European service around 2200 on 11710, but had splash from Sweden 11705 and others. The 60 mb opened up to Brazil around 2200 and to Venezuela, etc., about 2300. Latin American DX-ing in Europe is definitely a midnight to dawn pursuit.

RCI was the most consistent signal from North America. 15325 generally faded in around 1800 or 1900 and rose to be the loudest signal on the band on good nights by late evening. 11865 was less consistent but often good. The Northern Service, though Europe is surely not on the beam, was very good on 11720 and 9625 around 2300. VoA Greenville was often good by min-evening on various 16, 19, and 25 mb channels. AFRTS Greenville 15430 and 11790 were fair to good. WYFR, KGEL, and WDNE were not heard at all. No west coast VoA outlets were heard. The impression gathered was that eight time zones west, over the pole, is a much more challenging path than eight time zones east.

The Eurasian landmass provided the basic stock of stations heard at high level every day. Radio Peking to Europe is a very similar situation to Radio Moscow in Eastern North America. Compare the two azimuths - ECNA to European Russia is a span of eight time zones, a sub-polar path. Likewise, western Europe to Peking is a stretch of eight time zones in a similar direction. During the summer in Europe, Peking was therefore audible evenings on roughly the same gamut of frequencies as might be expected for European Soviet stations in North America. 19 m was marginal and only heard in the early evening; 25 and 31 m were strong; 41 m fair; and weak or absent signals on 49 m. The only times when Peking is inaudible are between dawn in China (say 0100) and around dawn in Western Europe (say 0700).

At that time those familiar channels of 15060, 15095, etc., begin to fade in again, to peak around 0930. There is another period of poor Peking reception when daylight absorption is at its highest, at local noon (1200 GMT). The main period of Peking audibility begins as early as 1300 with the Russian service, often jammed with a distorted Mayak signal. Reception from the Far East and Australia peaked around 1400-1600. Typical of reception at this time were good signals from VoA Philippines on 11965 and the gradual build-up of potent signals from Radio Australia, beamed to Asia on 9770 and 11825. Many Soviet Far East stations were heard, mostly with Radio Moscow's Chinese service.

By 6 p.m. local (1700 GMT) Radio Peking was beginning services beamed to Europe and Africa on the fringes of the 41, 31, 25, and (in early evening) 19 meter bands. Even taking it for granted that some of these come from transmitters in western China, reception was remarkable on a multitude of frequencies and in many languages. It is interesting to note, for example, that Peking transmits direct to Albania although Albania's own internal broadcasting reflects the Chinese line. Reception of Peking's Quechua broadcast at 2230-2255 was so local in quality that I wondered whether it could have been shipped on tape for broadcast in Tirana.

One item I particularly wanted to check on, but where I met with disappointment, were Peking's daytime broadcasts to Europe listed in the WRTH, e.g. Italian (on freqs. as low as 5250) at 1100-1200 and French at 1130-1200. Although the frequencies listed are typical Peking choices, most of them seem unsuitable for reaching southern Europe in broad daylight. Hence, I thought it possible that they might be Tirana relays, although Tirana has never yet been identified as relaying Peking shortwave transmissions to Europe. Disappointingly, the nighttime transmissions were inaudible, but that inaudibility in itself is significant since Tirana would be heard at that time.

Turning to the rest of Asia, All India Radio was a station which found me listening regularly. The European service at 1745-2230 on 7215, 9525, and 11620, and from 1945 additionally on 9912, was superbly received. Political events in India at the time were of unprecedented interest and AIR is not generally as good on ECNA, so it was a pleasure to listen to it at local strength. Other services of AIR were also heard, including the recently introduced Russian service. Best frequencies from Radio Pakistan were 15115 at 1100-1115 for the inimitable dictation-speed news, 15520 in the afternoons for interesting news on the Bangladesh revolution, and in the evening 9485 with the Turkish service at 1800-1900, and the European service later on 9465. The European service of Radio Pyongyang was heard on 9415 right next to one of the BBC's main frequencies. Hanoi, too, was heard at various times on 10040 and 12035; the best reception being in the 1600-1800 time segment.

When I was DXing in Britain from 1957-1963, I was a regular listener to the morning European service of Radio Australia which, then, enjoyed a popularity and consistency of reception equivalent to that of the corresponding ABC morning broadcast to North America. But this summer, due to the combined factors of low sunspot activity and high European QRM, reception was poor to nil in the 31 and 19 mbs. I did experience mid-evening reception of RA, though quite inconsistently, at Australian dawn, around 1900-2000 GMT, when the Pacific service was on 11840. The afternoon (GMT) opening to Australia remained the main one.

Japan to Scotland is a polar azimuth and it is not surprising that NHK is by no means as regularly heard as Peking. The only reception time was around 9 a.m. local (0800 GMT) when the European service was loudly heard in English on 15430 and the General service more weakly on 15195. On mornings of disturbed propagation both were inaudible. I would, however, say that the signal on good mornings was better than I have heard from NHK on ECNA. There was no flutter, which is seldom absent from the NHK signal in New York. The evening European service, listed for the 41 and 31 mbs at peak evening listening time (1800-1930) was a washout, swamped by European stations. Peking wisely operates outside the bands. Japan, though propagationally far less well located than Peking, is too law-abiding to do so.

African stations were not as evident as is the case in the Americas. The reason is that they are located due south and do not enjoy the valuable advantages of darkness into daylight transmission which brings Moscow, AIR, Peking, etc., in at such strength to Western Europe. During the summer months, at least, the high-frequency bands were never observed to be open only to the deep south. Rather, 19 meters generally provided potent signals from Iran 15084, Ankara 15165, the RFE outlets in Portugal, Radio Liberty in Spain, and at different times a variety of short-skip stations from almost any part of Europe. Hence, Radio RSA's European services, though heard, were not generally interference-free. Best frequencies for R RSA were 15155 and 11900. By the beginning of the North American service at 2225, the MUF had dropped drastically so that only 5985 was heard. The only black African station heard was Mali on 5995. Numerous North African stations were heard all day, e.g. Algiers 9685, Morocco 11735, Cairo 11630. The entire Middle East was very dominant; Peyk-e-Iran still going strong in Farsi, Azerbaidjani and Kurdish, Iran itself always blaring on 15084 and in darkness on 9022. Israel was heard not only on many foreign service frequencies, but also with the home service relay all day on 15545 and 11645 and nights on 9495. Kuwait was heard on 11940 over or under Bucharest. Africa though was good on 60 and 90 meters from dusk to dawn.

The closest continental country to Scotland is Norway, so it is no surprise that Scandinavia was dominant on most bands. Daytimes, for example, Norway 6185, when on the air, was the loudest on the band. Likewise, Finland 9550 was consistently louder, in daylight, than adjacent DW 9545 or SBC 9535. Finland 11755, 15 kw, which I have yet to hear in the U.S., was equally good. 6120 was sometimes noted. Of two stations with good noontime English broadcasts on 31 m, Sweden 9630 was much louder than SBC 9535. By comparison, southern Europe was not as dominant as it is in the U.S. Spain was heard mostly on 7105 for Spaniards abroad. Portugal's EN was quite inconsistent, depending on evening skip distance for irregular reception on 15295, 15315 or 15340, so that for coverage of current events in Portugal I had to rely mainly on late-evening reception of a MW station there. Adventest World Radio via Sines, 9670, was however booming. The daytime lineup of the bands in Scotland was as follows. 49m; Norway 6185 and France-Inter Issoudun 6175 loudest, DW 6075 and other Germans plus RNW 6045 next, weak signals from Prague 6055 and others. 41 m; Budapest 7220 was notably loud, plus other Central Europeans. 31 m; mainly northern and central Europe, Scandinavia, Germany, Prague, Budapest, Moscow's British noontime service on 9450 not quite at strain-free level, Algiers 9685 surprisingly good, RBI's long Arabic broadcast at 1100-1400 on 9730. 25 m; All Europe and Middle East, a very crowded band at all times. Although on numerous parallel channels, Radio Moscow's 1130-1230 British service did not provide interference-free reception on a single frequency. The shotgun technique, if all shots are misplaced, does not work. RBI in Arabic on 11700 was as outstanding as 9730. 19 m; this band, which might, had it been clearer, have provided reception of stateside VoA outlets and other distant daylight to daylight stations, was dominated by numerous Radio France channels, plus Radio Liberty and its jammers. Athens' Balkan-language service 1600-1715 was good on 15345. Northern Europe was more variable from day to day, though Finland 15185 was always good.

I would conclude by saying that, on the whole, East Coast North America seems to be a better location for listening in the international broadcast bands, rather than Europe. Europe and adjacent developed parts of Asia contain so many powerful stations that one is dominated by them. One feels quite remote from the Americas. The U.S. West Coast, eight time zones away, seems infinitely more difficult to receive than Peking, eight time zones east. Europe would be a good location for a DXer interested in Far Eastern stations, that tend to be difficult on ECNA. But the U.S. DXer has at least as good a shot at Africa, a better one, on the whole, at Latin America and the Pacific Islands (especially Tahiti). Evening short skip tends to be an annoying phenomenon, bringing unwanted stations from a few hundred to one or two thousand miles in on bands which ought more productively to be dominated by transoceanic stations. The locations which can provide short skip for the U.S. are mercifully few, mostly Greenville and Havana, whereas short skip evenings in Western Europe on 19 and 25 meters will show, at any given date and time, a booming DW, or Sweden, or Bucharest, or perhaps Brussels. Combine several of these and many good DX chances are lost. A fairly rational test of the quality of a DX location would be to take the mean of the distance of all SWBC stations audible at a given moment. At local noon in New York, it might be 3000 miles. In Perth, Scotland, it might hardly exceed 1000 miles. So, American DXers should count their blessings.

THE REALISTIC DX-160

reviewed by Brian Levy, Atlanta GA and Daniel McCarthy, Terre Haute, IN

The Realistic DX-160 is a totally solid state communications receiver covering 150-400 kHz longwave and 535 kHz to 30 MHz in five bands. The receiver operates from any 120 volt AC source or a 12 volt DC negative ground supply. Front panel controls include a variable BFO, AF gain, antenna trimmer, band selector, RF gain, a slide switch operated automatic noise limiter, AM-SSB/CW mode switch, fast-slow automatic volume control, and a stand-by switch. The receiver is equipped with an S-meter (very generous to weak stations) and a headphone jack is located conveniently on the front panel, well away from controls with which it could interfere. An external speaker is needed however.

Tuning is split up in five bands, A is longwave, B is standard broadcast, C covers

POWER FOR THE R392/URR by Joseph F. Stephany, Sodus NY

The high performance military surplus receiver, the R392/URR has already been reviewed in the May 1975 FRENDX by Morrie Goldman. Little can be added to describe its excellent sensitivity, selectivity, and stability. It is mechanically as solid as a receiver can be and is designed to be operated totally submerged in water as well as air dropped. The R392 is the field version of the R390 (Reviewed in October FRENDX) which by many is considered the best receiver ever made.

The power required for the operation of the R392/URR is 24 to 30 volts DC at about 3 amps. With a conventional power supply with no regulation several difficulties arise: 1. The best signal to noise ratio occurs with the highest allowed voltage on the plates. However, since the same voltage is applied to the filament the filaments run too close to the high side of their recommended rating of 26.5 volts. 2. The oven for the calibrator crystal caused the applied voltage to fluctuate up and down by several volts as the thermostat opened and closed. This causes the BFO filament to heat up and cool off slightly causing a small variation in cathode to filament capacity. This in turn caused the BFO to shift up and down in frequency by a few hundred Hertz because the cathode to filament capacity is in parallel with the BFO coil. This effect resulted in a loss of calibration accuracy and the inability to copy SSB. 3. A small but noticeable AC power hum was present.

It was decided that regulation was necessary. With the availability of low-cost semiconductors and integrated circuits this is not a difficult nor expensive task. The schematic diagram (on page 7) shows the final configuration. A parts list is included at the end of the instructions. The bridge rectifier CR1 and power transistor Q1 are well over-rated so that the fuse will blow before they will in case of a short. The two parallel power transformers must be properly phased so that their output voltage is 29 volts across each secondary; if 19 volts AC is measured across both secondaries, reverse the two green leads on the 5 volt secondaries. Capacitor C1 is to suppress transients that radiate from the rectifier and should not be left out. Due to the large power delivered by this supply (90 watts) a cooling fan was found to be desirable but not entirely necessary. The flow of air was directed between T1 and T2 and over Q1, which are the hottest components. IC1 and IC2 should be kept well away from T1, T2, and Q1 to avoid heating them. A resistor was placed in series with the cooling fan to reduce audible noise since only a very small flow of air was found to be necessary. If the cooling fan is not used, Q1 should be mounted in a heat sink instead of against the chassis. R5 may be raised to 500 ohms if an extremely low noise level is desired. If the separate plate and filament regulators are not desired, CR2, C3, IC2, R3, and R4 may be left out and A must be jumpered to D. This will cause about a 10dB loss in signal strength and a loss in audio punch. The entire supply was placed in a 7 by 13 inch aluminum chassis with plenty of room left for an audio amplifier for a speaker and preselector (like any receiver of this type, a loss of gain on the higher frequencies is noticeable due to lack of proper match with the antenna). As a final note be sure to ground the chassis to a good ground for safety's sake as well as improved performance and also insulate IC1, IC2, and Q1 from the chassis with proper hardware. Also the ground on the receiver, pin E of J 103, should be directly connected to the ground pin on the phone jack to reduce hum to absolute minimum.

R2 should be set so that 26.5 volts are applied to pin D with the receiver on and R4 adjusted so that 30 volts are applied to pin A. This, I have found results in the best operation. With the regulated supply, the receiver is dead stable enabling exact frequency measurements (to 100 Hertz). It is a pleasure to tune to SSB using the BFO, and it is now possible to use exalted carrier reception on rapidly fading stations with ease.

D.E. Rojewski writes that he had a letter to R. Peking returned by the U.S. Postal Service because of "incomplete address". If your letter isn't addressed to "People's Republic of China" there is a good chance that you will get it back. Full notice stamped on the returned letter reads: "Postal Authorities of continental China indicate that unless mail is addressed to People's Republic of China, it will be detained and confiscated according to the laws of that country. Return To Sender". I checked R. Peking's "Mailbag" program on this and they are still giving their address as Peking, China!

There! That's it! 73's, lots of luck, and don't forget Polskie Radio. John Moritz, Jr. wants me to mention Polish Pathfinders but I won't. Bob Wiles says Malawi uses "74's" to end their letters. Well, that puts them one up on everybody else.

USSR I would like to think the heavily distorted Mayak signal on 6560 at 1340, 1410 checks, is the tenth harmonic of Verkhoyansk-656, but it is more likely a jammer for Peking's Russian service (BEC MS asked to use 6560 at 1100, 1300). Could be both... (gh)

SWEDEN R. Sweden has been having some difficulties recently. It all began 8/22 when the rotating mechanism on one of the log-periodic antennas at Hörby broke down leaving it in the 240° position. We had to drop a number of transmissions and to use the remaining old 100 kW transmitter with curtain antennas or an omni-directional for other transmissions. (SCDX 9/16) As of 10/21, 15305 at 1230, 1400 still much weaker than it should be; however, the Swedish program at 1300 on 17770 pounds in loudly; might have resked English! (gh)

NEPAL (more) R. Nepal started in 1951 in a former private school building with a modest 250 watt SW xmit and improvised studios and control rooms. RN now has 2 xmit bldgs housing a total of 6 xmtrs, 250w to 100kw. In studio bldg, 6 studios, 5 control cubicles, equipped with fairly modern equipment. Present staff stands at about 245. A National Communications Plan was introduced in 1971, leading to an increase from 56 to 85 hr/week. RN has always remained effortful* to contribute in its own way to the task of national development and thereby help build a happy and prosperous nation--a vision cherished by His Majesty King Birendra. Realizing the importance of international program exchange, RN has put aside 15 minutes every week for programs received from other broadcasting organizations. A commercial service runs daily at 0920-1020, 1520-1720. Complete sked is 0020-0350 (an extra hour on Sats), 0720-1020, 1150-1720, all on 5.0 and 3.4 Mhz. MONGOLIA The ch. I reported last month, 7300, has returned to old 7238 after only a few days of tests on 7300. MALAGASY REP. R. Nederland noted as early as 10/14 on new 21685 ex-17855 (where there was RFI) for 1530-1650 Arabic, 1700-1820 Dutch. ITALY RAI is on new 21510 for "Domenica Sport" Sun 10/19 1455 tune in to 1650*, the current sked shows 21560 and 21695; neither heard. May be result of my advice to them a year ago to get off 21560 which was conflicting with VOA-Monrovia; however, VOA soon left instead. (gh)

ISRAEL Bet you missed it! Probably the only use of the 25 MHz band this year was 9/24 at 0740-0930 when IBA run antenna tests on 25600 (actually, it's band-edge, to avoid all the QRM in-band, h1) You would also have heard IBA's tone alternate dekaminutes 2300-0310 9/25 on otherwise unused 6230. EGYPT Acc. to an Israeli HS amat, Egypt stopped its deliberate QRM with Israeli Arabic pgs in mid-August. COLOMBIA On 9/30, the Colombian gov't released a decree #2085 which classifies stations into 4 groups (informative, recreative, educativo and docente); sets limits on the number of stations in a city (3 categories: high-powered, 1 station per 250,000 people; medium-, 1 per 100,000; low-, 1 per 30,000); and places restrictions on everything from coughdrop ads to saying anything which might interfere with judicial or police investigations. In the event of an emergency, private stations are to be merged with R. Nacional to provide official info. It also compels stations to give complete ID: name, call, address, freqs, at s/on, a/off, and allows Ministry of Comms. to shut down a stn if it is QRMing another and keep it shut until the stn can prove there is no longer any QRM problem. The lengthy 104-article decree also restricts programming (no foreign radionovelas on AM, no novelas on FM). (El Tiempo de Bogotá and 2 other papers, summarized by Adam Gaffin, Brooklyn NY) R. Cordoba is back: On 2440, 2 x 1220, 0445-0459, fair 10/8. (Kevin Szot, Vacaville CA) Fantastic signal here nightly, almost as strong as WWV, far exceeding any 120m fundamental; has "Radio-Sucesos" news from RDN 0500-0520 relayed from Ea. FUTURE PLANS

CANADA In 1976, CHNX's MW parent, CHNS will mark its 50th anniversary. C.E. Dick Parker says there are 'plans in hand' to permit DXers and SW fans to assist in the celebrations. He'd like to receive suggestions and comments from as many people as possible. In the past, CHNX has run SW mailbag-type pgms, separate from the usual simulcast. (Adam Gaffin, NY) RCI's future transmitter goal is 10 x 250 kw, making relays unnecessary (Alan W. Brooks, SPEDX 10/75) FINLAND A rotatable wide-band log periodic antenna at Porri will come into use next spring. Our new 250 kw xmttr will likely begin testing at the end of next summer. The reconstructed Porri station will be ready for use next Sept. (FRC 4-75 sked) HONDURAS will be much in the SW news shortly. Audio Video S.A., the largest communications conglomerate in Honduras is expanding its MW stns onto SW. THE WASHINGTON POST
McIntyre's Ship

WHEN THE FCC refused to renew the license of radio station WXUR in Media, Pa., its owner, the Rev. Carl McIntyre, crusader of the right, bought a World War II minesweeper and turned it into a "pirate" radio station. He took it out into international waters two years ago this month and began bombarding the Jersey coast with his "Radio Free America" programs.

The broadcasts were short-lived, however, as the FCC immediately obtained a cease and desist order.

Reached by phone at his Collingswood, N.J., office, McIntyre said he has now sold the minesweeper and has discarded—at least temporarily—his new scheme to broadcast from foreign vessels.

The reason: A Camden, N.J., station, WTMR, has begun carrying his "20th Century Reformation Hour" show and he is back with his old audience. "So I have no plans at the present time to float that ship out there," he said.

PROGRAMS

The programming section is a very welcome addition. I have been induced to become more of a true SW and enjoying it immensely. Isn't it odd how many of us fall to note what is being said in our quests for rare "and QSLs?" (Ed Shaw, San Diego CA)

SAVING TIME Fulfilling one's interest in program content can become quite time-consuming. Also, some programs are bound to conflict with others on SW, local radio or TV, sleep, work, etc. Though it is energy-consuming, the solution is to tape-delay such programs. I use a Microdots timer, which can be set to go on (once per 24h) for as little as 15 minutes. In practice it is often reset; to prevent resetting its clock, the dial must be held down firmly while changing the on/off markers. If you have a real tape recorder like my Akai X-150L, with easily accessible mechanical switching from 60 to 50 Hz power standards, you can play back programs 20% faster than recorded, in 5/6 of the time. Most speakers remain quite comprehensible. Very slow, preferably bassy speakers can stand to be recorded on 50 Hz setting, and played back at the double speed on 60 Hz, i.e., actually less than twice as fast. This always raises the pitch of the voice, which becomes less objectionable with familiarity. A new technique called "speech compression" is foreseen for home-market cassette recorders. This cuts out pauses and extraneous syllables, so when played back the speech is much more rapid, with no loss in comprehensibility or increase in pitch. (Not to be confused with a modulation technique of the same name, which has nothing to do with time.) (gh)

AFRICA is the only continent with several external stations attempting to provide an African radio service. It's analogous to the RFE/R Liberty missions of telling targetees about what is going on in their own countries, but for different reasons: Most ISB stations' mission is to tell the rest of the world about their own countries--but several of them become a mirror to Africa. Paris Calling Africa has already been reviewed here. But American SWs with an interest in Africa can benefit from these services, which are usually more easily received than broadcasts from African countries--and can take a broader view of events than can some more biased nationalists. Radio Canada International's 1800-1857 program has been substantially different from others on weekdays, e.g. Thurs. 1836-1849 African Press Review. But now it looks as if RCI's hour-long programs are being merged into uniformity. WOW this past 6 months had English designed for Africa at 0600-0730, 1600-1800 (Sat/Sun -1730), 1900-2100, and may continue the same. Those in eastern NAM too close to Bethany or Greenville can hear these 'off the back' from Monrovia. BBC African Alternatives impress us most. For instance: News of the African World, daily at 0330 on 9580 7105 6005, and at 0509 (Sat/Sun 0515) on 7270 6005; followed Sats 0335, 0520 by This Week & Africa, repeated at 1500 on 17695. As from 11/23, Suns 1500, African Theatre. Mon-Fri at 1515, Focus on Africa, for the latest current-event coverage. At 1630 on 11740 and 1730 on 9695, 11650 try these: Tues., Africa's Money Matters; Wed., Arts & Africa; Thurs., Blueprint Africa; Fri., What the African Papers Say. (All freqs given are Ascension, except 11680 17695) (gh)

CANADA Now RCI is beaming As It Happens to the USA: If NS on 11720/5960 and 9625 doesn't come in well, try-6085, Mon-Fri 2330-0100. The satirical series Inside from the Outside is back for another season, Sats. 0030-0100 on these frequencies. As is Dr. Bundola's Pandemonium Medicine Show, noted Sat. 1530 (now should be 1630) but maybe not a permanent spot due to National Sequence (a.k.a. World Series) intrusion. Now occupying the former RCSWC spot on Sats, is Weekend Magazine--just what we were all thirsting for... (gh)

ECUADOR The Tuesday program of Passport on KCJB will include technical data of the station, a special area of interest to some DXers. (Arnold J. Lausevich, Milwaukee WI) That would be Wed. GMT 0130-0230 and 0600-0700. Every Tuesday? (gh)

GREAT BRITAIN Most enjoyable and pleasant on BBCWS is Music from Scotland, Sat. 0100. Host Jimmy MacGregor is a real expert on that music and is a composer himself...a cordial host, complete with authentic Scottish accent, who speaks from the heart rather than from a script. One program featured some beautiful Gaelic songs..(Kim Andrew Elliott, Minneapolis) This month's picks are With a Sword and a Spade, Suns. 2145, Tues. 0145, 0815, Thurs. 1330; on famous roads of the past (who but the BBC would think of doing this?!), 11/2 The Silk Road of ancient China; 11/9, Royal Roads of Persia and Peru; 11/16, Ancient Rome; 11/23 After the Fall of Rome when roads deteriorated; 11/30, Alpine Roads. And, They All Laughed... (at inventors who were ahead of their times), Mons. 0745, 1115; Fris, 1730, 2315; 11/3, The Great Victorian Flying Machines; 11/10, 1700 Years of the Steam Age; 11/17, Telephones, Talking Machines and Stereo; 11/24, TV and Talking Pictures. Dates--first airing. (gh)

HUNGARY Would you believe Radio Budapest is inviting its 'fans' to send in for broadcast, tapes stating their point of view on subjects scheduled up to 12/9? 7 1/2 ips wanted. (gh)

USA Almost all the AFRTS items we run do not appear in their outdated 3/75 master sked, sent out unupdated upon request. Everything is now one GMT hour later due to standard time, which AFRTS thinks ends 2/29/76, instead of 4/25. Boo to CBS for revamping its formerly fine weekend features 10/18, with Dallas Townsend's talents turned from 'One View of the Press' to News Profile--another personality cult zero, Suns. 1/05. Earlier, Jerry Dunphy split from CBS-LA, ending Entertainment West, so Mike Wallace is at large 6 days a week, e.g. Sun. 1724. What's New at the Movies becomes in the Spotlight, Sun. 1713. Mutual's try at meeting the press, Reporters Roundup, runs Tues. 0435, 1035, 1635. Mutual Black Net's Bicentennial entry, Red, White & Blue in Black, shows on alternate week Production Feeds, Sats/Suns 0035, 0635, 1235, 1835, half of them usually preempted. States of the Union this month, Mons. 0500, Sats. 0900 are: Nov. 10/15 OH, 17/22 LA, 24/29 IN, Dec. 1/6 MS. (gh)

USSR Radio Kiev programs include: News Report; Mon., International Commentary; every 2nd Mon., DX Club; Thurs., Ukraine Today; Sat., Mallbag; first and 3rd Mon., Meet the Youth; first, 3rd, 4th Mon., Music from Ukraine. (Bob Padula, Australian DX News. 8/75)

any isn't there recent programming on SW... doesn't seem to be audio, continually excellent news, a good music playlist or at least not playing "Munnin' Jack Flash" against "Rhinstone Cowboy" or such), topicality of features (forget the home nation's fertilizer shortage that affects the walnut crop unless it is news), and general ability to hold my interest as well as local AM/FM. It would seem such would be available...it is but on a very few stations...so here are Coursey's Best and Worst... BEST: 1. WPT, who despite, cancelling RUSMC, JSL's, Christmas and so forth, have consistently excellent programming...and really good news. The Northern Service is great...better than local radio! 2. Swiss Broadcasting Corp., many will disagree, but their 30 min. "Lateline" is quite well done. 3. AFRTS, for bringing all-news to SWMC. Now...if they'll just pick up NBC's News and Info Svc... 4. UN Radio. 5. R. Nederland, good features...better news elsewhere. WURST: 1. The entire Soviet and Chinese Sphere...poor all around from programming to poor lines. Bright spots: Prague, Yugoslavia. 2. The Bible Thumpers...especially WJTB and WYFR. Bright spots: 4VMI and KGM. 3. Belgium and Vatican Radios...for the length of time the programs are on they could probably call their listeners (both of them) on the headline for less cost. Studies of Mediocrity: The BBC...I respectfully submit that they're overrated. Now, if they get Monty Python... Rate mail will be personally answered. (David Coursey, 10323 Estate Ln., Dallas, TX 75238, an intern at WNIS affiliate WRR) Some good points, David, but I take issue with a few of them: AFRTS is not and should not be "all-news"--it is (almost) all-talk. Picking up WNIS would mean dropping almost all its other network sources, and the many news and public affairs features running from 3 to 59 minutes. On the other hand, 15 or 20 minutes a day from Belgium, Vatican, is just about right, when well done, considering all the competition. I, for one, don't care a whit about popular music on SW, and wish stations would quit feeling they have to interrupt the talk every few minutes for musical relief. (gh)

DX PROGRAMS

CANADA You're in luck if you understand non-English languages. Only other being dropped is Portuguese, and it wasn't full-fledged, as most Brazilians preferred to contribute to the Spanish version. Spanish seemed expendable, being preempted at least twice in Oct., but is still sked Suns. 0033 on 11940 9535 6040, and 0333 on 9655 5990. French "allo DX" (be prepared for a difficult accent) is on Sat. 1940 on 17820 15325 11865, 11830 9685 Daventry; Sun. 2040 on 11895 9640 6145; Mon. 0240 on 9655 6020. It includes a DX report from TALEX club in Belgium. German, Suns. during the 1715-1800 period, 17820 15325, and Daventry 7235 5995. Czech, Sun. 1530-1600 on Daventry only 9555 7225. (gh)

GERMANY WEST Deutsche Welle still has its monthly German DX program, with consecutive English translation, on the second Saturday of the month, and following GMT Sunday, in the German transmission at 0750, 1150, 1550, 1950, 2350 and 0350. And in Spanish during the 2300-0030 xman on the third Saturday. (G.G. Thiele, via David Kernick, Morseyside, England).

I used to complain about this not being in the English program, but if it had been, to NAM, we would have lost it anyway last April! However, it would not have been a tragedy, as the Oct. (Eng.) pgm reshaped mostly old material already broadcast elsewhere: Carnarvon plans, NZDXL Convention, SLEC's DX pgm, the SCADXC, Zurich smoothed sunspots. Try 11/8; full freqs not expected to have changed much are: 2350, 3995 6145 9735 11795, and K1Gull 9700 15410; 0350, 3995, 6145, 9735; and Malta 6100 11865; Sackville 6085 9605. Spanish used 6075 6160 9545 11810, and Malta 6100 9610 11865. Then, there's Japanese on Tuesday following the German/English version, during 1115-1215 on 9605 11765 15225 11865. (gh)

MALTA Non-Bible-thumping must not pay off; "AWR will have to close down its pgms at the end of the year unless financial means can be found to continue. SOUTH AFRICA Radio RSA apparently feels that East Africans need the current DX Corner for beginners, while Europe and North America are ready for the new Saturday Corner for advanced DXers. In other words, the Wed. pgm will continue only at 1637. Sat. will be only in the 2100 and 2230 programs (2137 and 2307?). It also expands(?) into other language versions: French Coin DX, Thurs. 1200, Sun. 1800 and 2000 pgs; German Kurzwellenreiter, Tues. and Sat. after 1800; Dutch De Puntjes of DX, Tues/Thurs/Sat during 1700 pgm. PUBLICATIONS A new monograph on the use of SW radio in language teaching has been published by the Center for Applied Linguistics, 1611 North Kent St., Arlington, VA 22209. This monograph No. 11 may be ordered for US$1.00. It covers equipment choice and installation, operation of SW equipment in the classroom and language lab; language lessons on SW; integration of radio with other educational media; and statistics on use of major languages in international radio. The authors are Drs. Robert J. Nelson, Univ. of Illinois, and Richard E. Wood, Adelphi University. (Wood, Garden City LINV)

"The Regular Shortwave Listener in the U.S.", by James L. Hall and Drew G. McDaniel, in the Summer 1975 Journal of Broadcasting reports on a 1973 survey of the NNRC membership, including gh. One of five surveys asked for the respondent's four favorite ISWBCers. It may not be valid to extrapolate from 304 NNRC members to a nationwide SWL audience in the millions, why a multi-band club rather than an SWBC-only club like NASWA was chosen is not clear, but we do learn that NNRC's secret membership total in 1973 was 675 (gh) I don't think the study sufficiently proved its hypothesis. It also showed that TV usage among SW hobbyists is much below the national average. (Kim Andrew Elliott, Minneapolis MN) This was also spotted by David Muckes, Baltimore MD, who sent this copy. The appeal of DXing, or tuning the shortwave bands for distant broadcasting services, was high among these respondents but the desire to acquire news and information from international broadcasting services was ranked significantly higher than previous research would lead us to believe. Thus, the hobbyist listener (the SWL) should not be dismissed as a mere technician.

THE DOGHOUSE believe I've found a candidate. Radio RSA vs. Turkey on 2515, 2230-2320, both English to Van (Brandon Lovett, Coldwater CA). Yes, R.RSA finally caught on that ~~4.5~~ was on 9525 from 2300 so tested 9515 alternate days, and seems to have settled there, Turkey-banned. On 10/18, as soon as VOT mentioned "D" at 2216, R. RSA carrier blocked it already. This also put R. RSA a tight 5 kHz from both main 333 channels, 9510 and 9580. R. RS/ also on 9515 at 0300. (gh) R. Nederland will be in the doghouse if it activates Lopik-11710 at 2300-0020, as planned for winter season, and RA3-Argentina stays on 11710 as we expect it to. Notice how some stations are victim-prone? Maybe they don't stand up for their 'rights'. Another bad conflict is on 6165 around 0100. R. Nederland had planned to use 6120, but Spain had prior claim there. But Vatican remained on 6165 vs. RW despite its relatively clear channel 5995. On the densely crowded 6 MHz band, no station should use more than one channel per program per target area. (gh)

IN MY OPINION.... "There is no question that NASWA is the best SWBC club going. But should we be satisfied with 'best' or should we make efforts at improvement? I'm 100% in favor of the 'new look' instituted in FRENDS since the new team took over. Two ideas which particularly merit attention are 'forums' for the membership to express their opinions, and contests/coordinated monitoring events." (David R. Ball, 62 Lexfield Ave., Downsview, Ont, M3M 1M5) This is typical of the reaction being received here and at HQ. I believe the old team viewed 'forums' as worn ones, which would degrade the quality of FRENDS by opening it to general blab. But I for one strongly believe that members with something important to say should have access to FRENDS. Would other IN contributors like their full address given to encourage more personal contact? (gh) Look at this: I'm going to indent!

"I agree with that statement 'Hearing stations without listening & profiting from the programs seems rather pointless.' I might add my own corollary, that DXing without becoming more aware of geography, languages, radio techniques and technology, and the international brotherhood of man, is time wasted. Unfortunately, I feel that the SW DXers that I have seen, are taking less advantage of their vast opportunities and that RW DXers are taking greater advantage of their relatively minimal opportunities..." (Charles A. Taylor, Indianapolis IN) Too many trees to see the forest... (gh)

This is International Women's Year--a great time for us DXers to ask ourselves why our hobby seems to appeal to so few women. Some women may be turned off by electronics, but DX listening can be enjoyed with no intimate knowledge of receiver innards, and women do at least as well as men in mastering foreign languages. Yet, major DX clubs' member- and contributor lists show a tiny minority of female club-joiners. Perhaps it's time for more affirmative action. Perhaps the ham radio terms "YL" and "XYL" (and OK, for that matter) are objectionably sexist--and racist! Time and again we hear stories of wives whose attitudes toward their husband's DXing hobby range from indifference to hostility. So a marriage between two RW DXers last year was quite a novel happening. Females who are already NASWA members are especially invited to express their thoughts on this matter. (gh)

CLUB NEWS A new SW club has started near Durban, called Westville International Radio Club, and is operated by students at Westville Boys High School. Under the direction of one of the masters, Rod Dougill, this club has in a short while made great strides. All enquiries should be made to Westville International Radio Club, c/o Westville Boys High School, P.O. Westville 2630, South Africa. (Denzil V. Baker, not a member, Durban, RSA, via Charles A. Taylor.) The sexual preference of this club is obvious, but not the racial... (gh)

NON-CLUB NEWS The Colorado Association of DXers, "CADX", is not a club!!! But it is always looking for names and addresses of DXers in that state, to compile a list which will be distributed to all on the list. Get-togethers in the Denver/Boulder/Ft Collins/Colorado Springs area may be arranged. Next list will be published in December. Contact Bob Harrington, 3181 S. York St., Englewood, CO 80110; phone 303-781-1185, 1990-2300 local time.

MEETING NEWS One of the main sessions at the joint meeting of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages and the Fédération Internationale des Professeurs de Langues Vivantes will be devoted to the use of radio to teach languages--Sat., Nov. 29 at 0900-1030 EST in the Monroe East room of the Washington, D.C. Hilton. Most of the world's major radio stations have provided materials for distribution, and representatives have been invited to address the session. Manufacturers of SW receiving equipment have been invited to display their products. Those with an interest in radio and language instruction are invited to attend. I will be chairman of the meeting. (Professor Dr. Richard E. Wood, NY)

'MOST WANTED' UNWANTED By all but one enthusiastic respondent. Perhaps it's too easy for each DXer to compile his own data on the voluminous information in recent FRENDSes (gh)

VOA SITES Have you heard VOA-Careysburg, or Okuma? Yes, you have. Better-known names are but generalities. Each relay base has an accompanying receiving site (R): Colombo: 24km, 14 mi N of Colombo; R-Seedewa, 16N. Monrovia: Careysburg, 30 NE; R-Brewerville, 7 NW. Bethany: 26 N Cincinnati on Tylersville Rd; R-16 NW of tx site on Tolbert Rd. Okinawa: Okuma, 55 NE of Kadena AFB; R-Onna, 18 NE. Munich: 11 NE at Isanning; R-Ueberacker, 15 NW. Greenville: "The Edward R. Murrow Transmitting Station" ("a small honor for a great man." to quote a teacher I had back in HS); 2 mxtr sites, A & B, and R-C, form an almost equilateral triangle with Greenville almost in the center. (Bob Underwood, Siloam Springs AR) This brings to mind an extensive 4-page article on past VOA sites, based largely on the personal visits of Adrian Peterson, appearing in the 8/75 Australian DX News, and also broadcast over his Sri Lanka DX program (Suns. 0420). Remember VOA-algiers? But Adrian missed WVUS. I'll award a free copy of Adrian's article to anyone who can answer correctly: who, what, where, when and why was WVUS? (gh)

INTRUDER WATCH It seems US military restricts its intrusions to stations which can hide their identity (from the FCC?) with a tactical call sign. Like "Kingspin" on 11945, with BBS as BFO, calling Crayfish 10/19 1445, then slight QSY. Gee, thanks. (gh)

Ian MacFarland, Producer, Weekend Programs, and Deborah Weinstein, Producer, English Section, North American transmissions.

CLOSED CIRCUIT visited Radio Canada International's operations centre at Maison de Radio-Canada in Montreal to get some insight into the job being done by the staff of approximately 200.

Ian MacFarland is Producer of Weekend Programs, including LISTENER'S MAILBAG and SHORTWAVE CLUB. He joined CBC as a Technician in 1959, later served in the CBC's London, England office for three years as a Production Assistant, and then joined RCI as a Producer in 1966. He says shortwave is the cheapest and most enjoyable way of informing people and he feels more public education is required to show people that shortwave listening is a pleasurable hobby. MacFarland says he really learns a lot about Canada when he researches the questions sent in by listeners.

Deborah Weinstein is the Producer of North American transmissions for the English section. Her show goes "live" at 9 o'clock each night.

She spoke of a faithful audience of American listeners who write over 1000 letters a month to RCI. She says, "We Canadians are bombarded by the American media and Americans are not very knowledgeable about Canada. At RCI, we try to make up for that difference by making Canadian news, cultural news and music available to the U.S. Our current programming has no resemblance to previous programming which came out of this section. We now have a magazine show with its own theme and rhythm and the emphasis is on Canadian/U.S. relations. Our program is 100% Canadian content. We give all points of view in the news."

Louise Lajoie, Supervising Producer of RCI's English Service, is the first French-Canadian to have been appointed to that post. She spoke of the excellent co-operation between the different language sections and the good exchange of information which takes place. She hopes the staff newspaper will tell others "who we are, and what we do, and get them to contribute more to our programs." She added, "We are trying to get more contributions from various Canadian centres and we stress that the material be written with RCI's audience in mind and not for someone else. Our audience is entirely different and we cannot take anything for granted in our programming. We try to integrate meaningful events in Canada in broadcasts to other countries."

Gordon Redding has been an Announcer for nine years at CBC, almost exclusively with RCI. Redding works on the English service to Africa and the Middle East. He calls his job challenging because "serving Africa, the second largest continent in the world, is a bit like throwing ping pong balls on a tennis court." He admits the distance from the audience is a bit overwhelming and, unlike radio in Canada, the audience reaction is not immediate. It sometimes takes weeks or months for the reaction to come by mail.

Alan Brown, who was appointed Director of Radio Canada International in January, 1974, credits a task force in 1973 with opening up new possibilities for RCI. The task force, headed by Betty Zimmerman, Director of International Relations, undertook a six-month study to determine how RCI's efforts compared with broadcasters in other countries including England, The Netherlands, West Germany, Sweden and Yugoslavia.

Mr. Brown called a recent Gallup Poll of shortwave users in the United States "very rewarding". The number of listeners to Radio Canada International in the U.S. has increased 2.8 per cent since 1973. The BBC, as runner-up, had an increase in American listeners of 1.3 per cent in the same period. "We feel that a listening audience of one million people in the United States is a pretty respectable figure, considering we only broadcast three hours a day to that country," he said.

Alan Brown mentioned some goals for the future. He said RCI must increase its trading capacity with other broadcasters and make increasing use of their relays to boost service in Latin America and Africa. He added, "We must improve our service and reception with more facilities and, in this regard, we are ready to ask for permission to establish a transmitting station on Canada's west coast. It would be a logical development to have a transmitter in Vancouver so we could talk to the world in both directions... east and west, from there."

New Sound For AM Radio

By Josephine Mallo
Daily News Staff Writer

AM radio has a new sound today at 770 on the dial.

It is KTWG, a "nonprofit, nonpolitical, noncontroversial" interdenominational Christian station which was to begin its first broadcast at 6 this morning.

"We will have good-quality, inspirational Christian gospel programs, good music, classical and semi-classical," said Dr. Paul E. Freed, president and founder of Trans World Radio, an international radio network of which KTWG is a member.

"We are particularly interested in Guam because of its strategic position - because of the Orient. We can reach Mainland China, Southeast Asia, East Russia and Indonesia," Freed said.

The radio station and transmitter of KTWG, located in Nimitz Hill, are the initial steps in establishing a larger transmitter in Merizo for international broadcasting, he said.

The projected Merizo station, KTWR, will have 200,000 watts of broadcasting power and will reach locations bordering and within the Pacific Basin.

The present station in Nimitz Hill has a transmitting power of 10,000 watts and will broadcast to Guam and adjacent islands, it was reported. The studio is only temporary and later will be linked to the Merizo transmitter, Freed said, with the studios and offices later located downtown.

The station will "start with local personnel," he added with the number depending on the rate of expansion.

The station's staff now is several missionaries and their families, supported by Christian churches and individuals in the United States.

The target audience is "all the people - whoever is home, the housewives, children, youth and we may even put on a short Vietnamese program," Freed said.

The station, which was built in three months, will begin with primarily music and later will add a variety of Bible programs. National and international news from Associated Press wires will be broadcast each hour, it was reported.

"We are interested in the people locally and in serving them," Freed said. "When we broadcast we will be talking about Guam and our asset to Guam will not be in money."

The broadcasts will inform other countries about Guam and will promote the island, he added.

Freed estimated that the station normally would cost about $2.3 million but "expects less because of the staff, which is not paid for labor, and facilities, which are already owned or given to us."

The studio's tape recorder, speakers, turntables and several other pieces of equipment were donated by the men of the nuclear submarine tender Proteus, Freed said.

Trans World Radio has stations and studios all over the world, he said, including South America, Spain, Lebanon, Holland and France.

A nice turnout this month and some high-quality reporting, with lots of s/on and s/off information. (Now our usual tiresome reminders for the benefit of new members: please observe our deadline of the 15th; print neatly and legibly, if you must print (we much prefer typewritten reports whenever possible); use only one side of the paper; put your last name at the end of each item; give program detail and reception quality. NASWA report forms are available from Mac Leonhardt at Hq. for an SASE. And, as always, we ask that you report only your best DX.

Topline tip. . . They're dropping off like flies! Per DSWCI, quoting WRH's new info, REUNION ISLAND, St. Denis has discontinued shortwave operations, keeping only 602 kc MW....AFNT-Taipel reported off SW, dropping 7215 kc. and 3990 kc. channels....PORTUGUESE TIMOR station "reportedly blown up" during recent excitement over there....GRENADA has dropped 3300 kc., 11925 kc. and 15105 kc. No mtn of 5015 channel -- but this may have departed, also!

HONDURAS - Radio El Ceiba allegedly to go SW on 6145 kc. in early January. Owner is Honduran politico Miguel Andonie Fernandez of the Audio Video Co, which also owns R. Lux among other stns. Propagational picks. . . Solar activity will remain low, though probably not as low as during recent weeks. The most significant geomagnetic disturbances since last April was noted Oct. 7-9 and, in diminished form, this is expected to return. Look for A-indices in the 15-30 range Nov. 2 through 6. The A's for the rest of the period will probably vary on a day-to-day basis from about A-3 to A-12. Best bet -- chances are good for favorable low freq African reception during the first week of November. Bazongal

SWAN SONG - Cf. MM-DXH. Source now leans away from CIA operation of Radio Swan due to its being listed in BECMS as "monitored abroad" (ie., FBIS). CIA wing wouldn't blow whistle on its own operation is the traditional logic. But source says one well-known right-wing rig and apple-pie broadcaster is rumored to have purchased interest in Honduran stn some five years ago. And, this guy is also supposed to have some fallow equipment. (Anon.)

TURKS ISLAND - Morning operations indeed a reality, as reported in MM-DXH by Jack Jones. VSI xmitting rig pgms, usually hrd here from 1100-1130. UNIDENTIFIED - Apparently Jack Jones is again going to make sure we all climb out of the sack at one hour. First Swan, and now: "What the hell is going on with this fellow on 6255 kc, just north of the dial of Peking?" Continuous US pops on 10/7, 10/10, 10/11 and 10/13. Noted three times one song about Cassius Clay who changed his name to Muhammed Ali. 30 second pause between numbers, segued. (Jones) Might be heavyweight DX, OH. (Ed.) Breaking news on Admiralty Islands, New Hebrides, Oman, Swan, Turks and more. Get with it. For a stinkin' $3, you can't afford to miss it. Write Mac at NASWA hqtrs today. (Ed.) Until further notice, tread with great caution through Angolan loggings. Great controversy still rages between the Euro DXers and even Africans down there themselves as to who is on h970, h962 et al. Info repeated in Sept. DXH from DSWCI being disputed across the pond, so beware. (73 de rwy)

SPECIAL BONUS- A Multiband Wire Antenna

This is a re-run of an article by this editor which appeared in Feb. '73 FRIENDS. On the bands covered, this antenna is comparable with the SWV-7. This is not too surprising, since the latter uses L/C traps and the home brew model described here uses the quarter-wave ground-plane principle which is superior since there are no losses involved. This is a GOOD limited-space antenna for the bands covered, and shouldn't cost more than \$5-6 if you can come up with some used poles or use a tree for the vertical mast. While it is designed for the six bands listed, it is not to be considered useless for other freqs. It does not require a tuner. Additional bands may be covered by adding wires using the formula: $234 \div \text{frequency}$ divided by the mid-band freq in Mhz. Third-harmonic relationships are used to advantage, as in the case of wires A and B. This is the only instance in electronics that I know of where you get something for nothing.

Construction notes: the easiest way to connect the bared coax braid to the ground-rod (should be six feet or more down) is to use a hose clamp. Semivertical wires should be enameled, or at least insulated. When trimming coax, be sure to cut off excess braid so that it cannot short against the center-conductor. If two trees are available, a horizontal wire can be strung between them and be used as the support in place of the mast. If most of your listening is on the bands covered, this is a FB antenna.

16 thru 60 Meter Antenna (except 41 Meters)

- A--- 46'8", resonant for 60 & 19 M
- B--- 39'4", " " 49 & 16 M
- C--- 24'3", " " 31 M
- D--- 19'9", " " 25 M
